

Your school logo here

UNDERSTANDING MYSELF AND MY OPTIONS

Researching Course Quality

Learning Outcomes

The information and links in this resource will build your understanding of:

- Factors to consider when evaluating the quality of a course.
- Resources that you can access to evaluate the quality of a course.

Choosing a post Year 12 course is an important decision. Researching course quality can give you confidence in making course decisions. This article explains some resources that you can access to estimate the quality of courses of interest to you.

These resources will help you answer questions such as:

- Have the course and course provider been quality assured and accredited?
- What do recent graduates think of the course?
- What are the outcomes of recent graduates?
- How do I pay course fees?

Higher Education Courses

The Tertiary Education Quality and Standards Agency (TEQSA) protects the reputation of higher education in Australia through rigorous quality assurance processes.

